TERRIFIC LIGHTNING. GREAT STORM AT MT. McGREGOR.

Three People Prostrated Gen. Jackson Unconscious for Twenty Minutes-Telegraph Wires Down.

Mr. McCinnoon, July 30.-At 6500 this along the felegraph wires which are strung under the archway running from the Hotel Halmoral to the railroad station. The archway passes in front of the Grant cottage, which is USI foot distant. Gen. Jackson, of Ft. Nisgara, and Col. W. Butler Beck, Company A. Fifth Artillery, Governor's foliand, were walking to the depot, and were directly in front of the cottage when they were knocked senseless to the plank dooring. A Mrs. Fox, of Phila delphia, stopping at Congress Fark Place, at Saratoga, was walking near them. She was also knocked unconscious. Gen. Jack son remained unconscious for twenty minuses. Dr. Douglas was immediately summoned from the hotel dining room where he had gone for dinner. Several soldiers and he had gone for dinner. Several soldiers and other people in other portions of the mountains were thrown down, but were only shaken up a little. The greatest excitement prevailed among the hotel guests. The lightning also passed along the wires survounding the dining room, and blackened the walls. Gen. Jackson, in falling, struck and slightly out his head. He had only arrived at the mountainsthis morning to take rived at the mountainsthis morning, to take command of the artillery battalion, part of enich have already arrived, and the rest of which are expected to night. Coi, Beck and tien, Jackson are now conscious. The extent of their mouries cannot yet be stated. Mes. For fully recovered, after a prostration of fifteen minutes, and immediately pro-ceeded to Saratoga. Inquiry at the Grant outlage elicited the information that, though the family had feit the shock, nothing serious had been suffered. At 10 o'clock this morning Mrs. Grant viewed the remains of the General for the first time since his death. The United Press correspondent discovered that one of the principals employed in the embalming process of Gen. Grant's body, was approached jesterday by the man who said he was a profound admirer of the illustrious dead, and was prepared to offer a handsome thing for a memento of him and without more ado deliberately offered his listener as large a fee as he would ask for a the General's hair. It was indignantly refused when the man speedily disappeared. A careful search fulled to discover his identity. The man from Saratoga at 4 p. m. brought about one hundred and fifty visitors, who immediately viewed the remains, making about five It is said that the public will not be allowed to look upon them again until the

At 3 o'clock this evening Dr. Douglas reported that Gen. Jackson was rapidly recoverported that Gen. Jackson was rapidly recovering from his shock, though he was still somewhat daxed. Col. Beck was sitting up and there was no danger of serious results in either case. The family at the cottage were alarmed when the shock came. They distinctly felt the electric disturbance, but were only momentarily alarmed. All telegraph wires on the Mount were prostrated by the storm, and correspondents had to go to Saratoga with their dispatches by special train. Late in the evening the storm subsided and the night is clear and storm subsided and the night is clear and moonlit. The guests are congratulating themselves that the results of the lightning were no worse. Both the injured men are

Mrs. Sartoris and Mrs. Fred Grant were with Mrs. Grant when she viewed the face of the General. The bereaved wife was personally colin and did not give vent to the deep emotion which she must have experienced. Dr. Newman asserts that the packet which Col. Grant placed within the pocket of the coal on the dead General's body before the coffin was scaled, contained a letter from Mrs. Grant in reply to one which the Gen-eral left for her to read after his death. It also contained a lock of her hair. Her letter is described as very pathetic and closes with the words: "Farewell until we meet again." The ring placed on the General's finger by Col. Grant after death was one which Mrs. Grant gave him twenty years ago. It became rather small for him, and he had of late excried it in his pocket book.

MRS. GRANT'S LETTER.

Said to Tell How the General was Deceived.

New Youx, July 30 .- The Sun's Mt. Mc-Gregor correspondent says: "One reason why Mrs. Grant does not give to the public the letter the General left for her is that it mentions the names of a number of mennow living, telling how the General had been deceived by those he supposed to be his friends, and explaining how he was drawn into the meshes of Ward. The letter would make eight pages closely written of large man eight pages chosely written of large sized writing paper. One of the first labors of Coi. Grant after the family settles down will be to write a biography of his father. Speaking of the General's book, it may be said that the reports as to the profits the family expect to derive from the profits are consequent. it have been grossly exaggerated. Their guaranted share of the sales up to date is only $12,000, and probably their total receipts from the book will not exceed $100. 000. The reason the General is not to be buried in his uniform is because he had none. It want with his swords and other property and relies which was transferred to the government. The family are said to feel very deeply the less of the uniform and

The House He Once Occupied in Detroit to be Suitably Draped.

A large two story frame house, with an old. fashioned one story wing and white painted inside blinds, stands at 253 East Fort street. The siding is weather heaten and rusty, and the whole structure bears the marks of years. The homes was occupied by Liest. Ulysses S. Grant when he was stationed in Detroit in DG2 and at that time stood at the northeast corner of Jufferson arenne and Russell street, whence it was moved to give place of James McMillan's residence. Dr. Yemans has entired the attention of the Veteran Association of the Twentyfourth Michigan regiment to the house, and by their direction the doctor will see that the house is appropriately draped in honor of its former occupant. A flag has been volunteered by the Mexican reterms. There is some talk, also, among the ex-sol-disers of Detyork, of buying the house and preserving it as a memorial of the dead Gan-

COMING HOME.

Congressman Comstock Takes a Sad Leave of the President.

special to the Detroit Free Press. Washisuron, July 39.-Mr. and Mrs.

Comstock left for Grand Rapids at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Mr. Comstock is in good health, but not in as contented a frame of mind as he might be. To-day he held a protracted interview with the President and evening a terrific storm of lightning ran Secretary Vilas. Matters are not going in the Fifth district to suit him. For instance, recommended Geo. E. Hubbard, a wellknown Greenbacker, for the office of postmaster at Grand Haves several weeks ago.
Yesterday Geo. Sanford received the ap-pointment. This course of procedure looked to Mr. Comstock as if a Congressman's recommendation did not carry with it the weight it was entitled to receive. He said as much to the President and Secretary to-day the interview mentioned. Then to the other offices heretofore referred to, viz Collector of the port at Grand Haven, postmaster at Grand Rap da and the United States marshalship, Mr. Comstock says he has received no assurances that his wishes will be regarded as to ances that his wishes will be regarded as to any one of those official positions. "I told the President this afternoon," said Mr. Comstock this evening, "that within my own recollection, extending over a period of fifty years, the recommendation of Congressmen was sufficient to settle an appointment in his district. I saw no reason why the rule should not prevail now. The responsibility, I said, should rest somewhere, and I knew of no better mode than to make Congressmen responsible for all appointments within their sponsible for all appointments within their espective builtwicks." What did the President say in response

"He said he did not wholly agree with me. He thought that certain dangers might arise from so doing. I said I was willing to take all the responsibility for the appointments in my district, and further, I thought I knew what was needed as well as any one else in the district. The President received me much more kindly than in last May when I was here. Then he would scarcely listen to what I had to say. This time he was more cordial in his conversation and did not harry me. Did I succeed in bringing him over to my views? We parted on about the same ground as when I entered upon the subject of my conversation. I am not sure that we shall ever think alike on some questions, and yet I must say that the President treated me with the utmost cordiality and pandence of THE TELEVIAM Muskenon, July 30.-Mr. W. E. Rose, proprietor of one of the most popular restaurants here, committed suicide last pight by taking an over-dose of morphine. He had not been feeling well for a few days and seemed to be brooding over some trouble. real or imaginary. About 7 or 8 o'clock he came into the drug store of Mr. Barcus, on Pine street. He was acting very strange at the time and remarked that he was not aware that the store had changed hands. It is believed he took the fatal dose of morphine about 9 o'clock. He was not known as being in the babit of taking it, although he is known to have taken it a few times before. Dr. G. S. Williams and Dr. Dinslow was summoned and all that medical skill could do was done but without avail. He where also conducted the restaurant busifellows, of which he was a member.

SUICIDE AT MUSKEGON.

A Prominent Restaurateur Takes a Fatal Dose of Morphine.

Farquharson Coming to America.

Loxpon, July 30.-It is stated that Farqubarson, the defaulting Dublin manager of the Munster bank, sailed for Baltimore today from Holyhead on a small vessel char-tered solely by himself. CLEVELAND, July 30. - Toinmy McHugh, aged 17, whose widowed mother lives at Conneaut, O., has reached his home after seven years' slavery under Charles Morting, a showman who entired the boy away from Bradford, Pa., seven years ago. The troupe traveled all over Europe and Tommy was made a contortionist and trapeze performer. He was often brutally beaten. He was taken by the police at Rotterdam, Holland, who sent word to America. Tommy acted on the trapeze in company with a little girl, who was no doubt diknapped.

Alaska-Great Country.

POSTRAND, Ora., July 20.-Prof. Zahm. of Notre Dame college, South Bend, Ind., arrived here resterday from a trip to Alaska. He has traveled in all parts of the world, but he says the trip from Puget Sound to Alaska surpasses anything he has seen for beauti-ful scenery. He thinks the trip will become a favorite one with summer tourists. He reports Alaska to be as rich as Nevada was eral ores. Senator Miller, of California, and Senator Doiph, of Oregon, returned on the same steamer.

The First Contribution,

New York, July 30 .- The first contribution for the monument to be seeded in honor of General Grant in Riverside Park was received by Mayor Grace this morning. It was the sum of fifty cents, and was accompanied by a note writter on mourning paper signed Mrs. Eleanor Flatcher. It suggests that if the people of New York city would deny thioniselves all lumnies in the shape of import, tobacco, ice cream, etc., the amount needed for the erection of a monument would be | fight.

Unprecedented Trotting by Bonner's

Wonderful Mare-Great Enthusiasm Among the Crowd.

CLEVELAND, July 30 .- Mand S, the fearless queen of the turf, earned her promised retirement at Glenville track to-day, breakidg her record by a full half second, amid the cheers and wildest applause of 20,000 people. She was brought out about 5 o'clock, and was given a "warming heat," which she made in 3:29. Then the start of the 2:30 class was had, while Mand S was getting her wind and muscle up for her great effort. She was driven to the three-quarter turn and brought down the stretch at a good jog, and when the word was given to go she fairly leared into the air, seeming to fly upon wings instead of hoofs. She reached the quarter pole in splendid shape, but here sto broke all to pieces and had almost to be reduced to a walk to bring her down. Bair brought her back, and as she passed the grand stand she seemed to act as if ashamed of herself. Another start was made and the beautiful little mare shot under the wire like a rocket. She preserved this gait all the way round, coming in with her eyes flashing and her breath snorting victory. A shingle was displayed from the judges' stand bearing the astonishing figres, "258%," A terrific shout went up, and thousand voices screamed, "She's done

There were no pools sold on the result of Mand S.'s effort, Bonner especially request-ing that it be not done. The weather and all other conditions were favorable and the enthusiasm was immense.

Died from an Officer's Shot BUFFALO, July 30 -Edward Welch, who was shot early Tuesday morning by Officer Bowman, died this morning. Bowman has been placed under arrest to await the result of an investigation. Welch's friends claim that the officer had regained his feet and shaken himself free from the young men before he fired the fatal shot. Bowman's record as an officer is very high, and the police officials agree that he was just in his action. Bowman is recovering slowly, be-ing more seriously hurt than at first sup-

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 31, 1885.

The Defense Try to Prove That He Was a Having Maniac.

WINNEYSO, Man., July 30.-Green Shields spened the case for the defense in Rid's trial at Regins to-day. He went into the legal aspect of the case and renewed the argument offered at the beginning of the trial, that while the defense had full coufidence in the jury, he deemed it right to protest against the selection of the jury by a magistrate appointed by the govern-ment. He next reviewed at length the griev-ances of the half-breeds since the confederaion, and dealt with agitation in 1869. The Crown had laid the biame of the rebellion on Riel's head, but forgot to point out that no heed was ever paid by the govern ment to their representations until at last the half-breeds touched a match to the smouldering embers and set the fire going There was no proof that Riel came to the country to str up rebellion, he came at the carnest solicitations of his countremen. The defense would show the prisoner to be a raving maniac. The testimony of experts would be given in proof of this.

Riel believed himself to be a prophet and wanted to establish a new religion, and also to conquer Canada and divide it among the nationalities of Europe. Rev. Father Ander and four others would refer to Riel as being insane in religious matters. He said that the priests were unanimous in their opinion that Riel was a fool in politics and religion. and to discuss them with him was like exhibiting a reg rag to a buil.

Doctor Ray, superintendent of Beauport Asylum, gave the opinion that Riel was of unsound mind. Doctor Jakes, surgeon of the mounted police, had never seen anything to lead him to believe that Riel was insane. Doctor Wallace also said Riel was perfectly sane, but he thought the prisoner was play-ing the insanity dodge to help him through his difficulty. It is expected the case will

The Standard describes Churchill as a very much overrated, impudent, overgrown school-boy; good at insulting his superiors, but otherwise of very ordinary talents. His praises are sung by the interested clique, but, says the Standard, "it is time for others to speak out. We will not sing praises nor be bullied by any over-grown school-boy verging upon middle age without a man's sense. Salisbury must decide soon, or Churchill, having already worked irreparable harm to the Conservative party, will ruin it altogether." As a parting shot the Standard describes Lord Churchill as a miserable, absurd imitator of Disraeli, without one-fiftieth part of the latter's ability. The article is sure to create a marked political sensation.

A Northern Contemporary the Victim of Misplaced Confidence.

The Resorter is a victim of misplaced confidence. Last week we engaged a religious editor, realizing that our force needed strengthening in that direction. He was a fair-haired, mild-manner d young man, and was loaded down with Sunday School medals and testimonials. One of the first duties as-signed him was to report the session at St. John's Episcopal Church. So great was our confidence in him that the night editor did not revise his work, and as a result yesterday morning's paper proclaimed to the whole world and the rest of mankind that Bishop Richter, the eminent Catholic divine, now in Germany, preached an elegant sermon, and administered rites of confirmation in our Episcopal Church! Of course intelligent readers like ours would know that Bishop Gillespie was meant, but we feel had to be so deceived in the young man. Hereafter pected that his peculiar ability will enable him to report every game won by the home club.-Harbor Springs Resorter.

But ten Aldermen were present when the sdjourned session of the Common Council was called to order last night. Alderman Stewart soon arrived and later Alderman Stanley and Pierce made their appearance. The Ferst Ward was not represented and Alderman Albright was absent. Alderman Killean offered the following Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Mayor to prepare and present to the Council at the next regular session, appropriate resolutions relative to the death of the Nation's Hero, the late General U. S. Grant, whose remains will be interred at Riverside Park, in New York City, Saturday, August 8, and also to make the necessary preparations for the Council and the city officials to attend the memorial services to be held in this city on that occasion. The resolution was unanimously adopted, and the Mayor appointed Aldermen Killean, Gilbert and Hayward as the committee.

The ordinance relative to the duties and compensation of the City Physician was taken from the table and placed upon its third reading. The ordinance as read made it the duty of the City Physician to act as the compensation of the City Physician to act as the compensation of the City Physician to act as the compensation of the City Physician to act as it the duty of the City Physician to act as Health Officer and attend persons afflicted with contagious diseases. Alderman Thum offered an amendment authorizing the City Physician to employ an assistant when necessary, and forbidding him visiting any of the city poor not afflicted with contagious diseases, while he has the care of cases of contagious diseases. The amendment was lost. The ordinance as read fixed the salary of the City Physician at $1,000 and Alderman Stewart offered an amendment increasing the amount to $1,500 per year. Adopted. After further unimportant amendments being adopted the ordinance was passed. On motion of Alderman Gilbert the ordinance relative to the employment of prisoners in the jail was taken from the table, ers in the jail was taken from the table, placed upon its third reading and passed without amendment. The ordinance relative to slaughter houses, butchers, etc., was read a third time and passed, and the ordinance to amend the ordinance to suppress gambling was taken from the table and disposed of in the same manner. The ordinance to amend the ordinance relative to houses of ill-fame and also relative to indecent exposure of the person, and also the ordinance to amend the ordinance relative to disorderly persons were taken from the table, read a third time and passed. The ordinance to amend the ordi-nance relative to the preservation of public peace, and the ordinance to amend the ordi-nance relative to breaches of the peace were placed upon their third reading and passed. The effects of the amendments to the ordiances is to give the courts authority to sentence prisoners to hard labor in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance relative to the employment of prisoners in the jail, in other words to make this last mentioned ordinance practicable it was necessary to amend the others.
